"A VIRGIN PARADISE" IS A SPECTACULAR DRAMA

"A Virgin Paradise," a story of the jungle and of civilized hypocrisy written by Hiram Percy Maxim and produced as a super-special by William Fox, will be shown at the Grand Monday. The picture created a sensation on Broadway, New York, by its scenic magnificence, spectacular effects and powerful emotional appeal. The scenes include the destruction of the entire population of a South Sea island by a volcanic eruption, with the exception of an infant girl, daughter of a missionary, and her native nurse, and the burning of a palatial country place on Long Island.

The girl, Gratia Latham, grows to young womanhood in a half savage state on the island, with lions, apes and other wild animals as her only companions after the death of her nurse. She is discovered by a searching party in a steamer after she has fallen heir to a fortune of $10,000,000, and taken to the estate on Long Island. There she finds it difficult to adjust her character and manners to the expectations and desires of her relatives, and impossible to fall in with the plan of a young man of the family to marry her for her millions. Her manner of repelling this unwelcome attentions is in keeping with her half savage upbringing.
